DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 2, 5-9, 16, 19 and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Morris.

There is disclosed in Morris a wine barrel comprising: a rigid barrel frame having upper and lower substantially identical rigid ends 36 and a plurality of rigid longitudinal connecting means 42; a plurality of wooden side panels 16 secured to the connecting means and extending circumferentially within the frame; wooden end panels 14 mounted between the rigid ends and connecting means; a gasket 140 interposed between the wooden end panels and side panels; and hardware in the form of rings to tightly secure all the side panels together to form a liquid tight barrel arrangement.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 3, 4, 14, 15, 17 and 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Morris in view of Prime et al.

Morris fails to disclose longitudinal connecting means formed of a material non-reactive to wine.

In Prime there is used a metal frame 11 having longitudinal connecting means which support wooden side and end panels.

It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to modify the connecting means of Morris with that taught in Prime and construct them of a metal material as opposed to a wooden material, for the purpose of providing an alternative construction arrangement.

In regards to the use of circular tubes, it would have been an obvious matter of design choice to use cylindrical tubes as opposed to rods, since applicant has not disclosed that cylindrical tubes solves any stated problem or is for any particular purpose and it appears that the invention would perform equally well with the rods.

Claims 10-13 and 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Morris in view of Pradel.

Pradel discloses the use of end rings 20 which include a means (groove) for capturing and securing end wood panels 18.

It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to substitute the end rings of Morris with those disclosed in Pradel, in order to help keep the end panels secure in their location.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The patents to Spooner, Croser, Lachman and Smith are cited for their disclosure of the state of the art.
